

If You'd Like to Work With Us

SECTION ANALYSIS

Purpose: A phone-first alternative to the form-based CTAs elsewhere on the page, aimed at visitors who would rather talk to a person than fill out another field.

Target Audience: Business owners and decision-makers who are ready to move quickly and prefer a direct conversation over email back-and-forth - often a higher-intent segment than form submitters.

User Intent: "I want to talk to someone right now," not read more or fill out another form.

Business Goal: Capture high-intent leads by making the phone number impossible to miss and removing any friction between interest and a real conversation.

SEO Opportunity: A real office photo paired with the Deovate name and phone number is strong material for Local Business / NAP (name, address, phone) consistency and could support LocalBusiness structured data if this section is backed by schema markup.

Recommended CTA: Call Us Now, paired directly with the number - keep the two together exactly as they are, since splitting them would add a click most visitors will not bother making.

Design Psychology: This reuses the rain-on-glass city photography from the homepage hero, which bookends the page with the same visual language. The difference is that this shot is Deovate's actual office reception with a backlit logo on the wall, which quietly answers "is this a real company" - a real address behind the glass, not stock photography.

Content Note 1: The heading currently reads "If You Like to Work With Us," which reads as a general preference rather than an invitation. "If You'd Like to Work With Us" is the grammatically natural phrasing for this kind of conditional invite and should be a simple text fix.

Content Note 2: The subtitle line beneath the heading is low-contrast and partly obscured by the potted plant in the background photo, making it hard to read in the screenshot. Worth checking contrast and z-index on this line specifically, since it currently carries the explanation for why someone should call.

CONTENT (ENGLISH)

Small Label: Let's Talk

Main Heading: If You'd Like to Work With Us

Subtitle: Reach out today and let's talk through your project - no pressure, just a straight answer on how we can help.

Phone Number: +91 73010-05510

EXPLANATION (HINGLISH)

Small Label - "Let's Talk" already short aur friendly hai, isliye unchanged rakha - yeh directly is section ke phone-call intent ko match karta hai.

Main Heading - Original "If You Like to Work With Us" grammatically thoda off tha - jaise koi habit ya preference bata rahe ho. "If You'd Like to Work With Us" ek natural, invitation wala tone deta hai, exactly waisa jaisa ek CTA heading mein chahiye.

Subtitle - "No pressure, just a straight answer" jaisi line isliye add ki gayi kyunki jo visitor form ki jagah seedha call karne wala hai, woh usually salesy pitch nahi sunna chahta - woh bas ek honest answer chahta hai.

Button and Phone Number - Dono as-is rakhe gaye hain, kyunki yeh already clear, direct, aur action-oriented hain - is tarah ke high-intent CTA mein change karne ki zaroorat nahi thi.

Content Note (Contrast) - Subtitle line abhi plant image ke peeche halka dikh raha hai, isliye ise flag kiya gaya hai - yeh ek design fix hai, content fix nahi, lekin phone-CTA section mein "why call" wali line clearly padhna zaroori hai.
