

Technologies We Work With

SECTION ANALYSIS

Purpose: A quick trust strip between Services and Why Choose Us that shows the concrete tools powering delivery, right when a visitor is deciding whether this is a serious technical team.

Target Audience: Technical stakeholders (CTOs, technical co-founders) doing a quick "do they actually know what they're doing" check, plus non-technical owners who still recognise logos as a credibility signal.

User Intent: Is this a real engineering team with a current stack, or a reseller running everything through one drag-and-drop builder.

Business Goal: Add quiet credibility without asking for a click, and hand the visitor off to the Why Choose Us section next.

SEO Opportunity: Light. The full Tech Stack section further down the page already covers these terms in depth, so this strip should stay short and not duplicate that copy or keywords.

Recommended CTA: None — this is a scanning strip, not a conversion point.

Design Psychology: A logo carousel reads as "plugged into a real ecosystem" in under a second, faster than any paragraph could establish the same trust.

Template Note: In the code, this block is commented "Clients Logos Section" and the image files are named client.png through client9.png, but the live default heading is "Technologies We Work With" and the images are generic technology/tool marks, not named client logos. The copy below matches what's actually true — technology partners, not named clients — so nothing here implies real client logos that don't exist. Worth a future cleanup pass to rename the asset files/comment so the next developer isn't misled by the filenames.

CONTENT (ENGLISH)

Small Label (not yet wired — same limitation as the Services section, title/subtitle only): Built On

Main Heading: Technologies We Work With

Subtitle: The frameworks and platforms our team reaches for by default — chosen because they'll still be supported in five years, not because they're trending this month.

EXPLANATION (HINGLISH)

Small Label — "Built On" isliye choose kiya kyunki yeh short hai aur turant clear kar deta hai ki yeh ek technology strip hai, bina extra explanation ke.

Main Heading — Existing heading "Technologies We Work With" already accurate aur clear hai, isliye retain kiya — naya heading likhna sirf generic hi hota, kuch improve nahi karta.

Subtitle — "still be supported in five years" wali line isliye likhi kyunki yeh ek specific, verifiable-sounding reasoning deti hai ki tech choice random nahi, balki long-term thinking se hui hai. Yeh "cutting-edge technology" ya "latest tools" jaisi generic lines se bachata hai jo almost har agency ki website pe likhi milti hain.

Template Note — Code mein carousel "clients" naam se hai lekin actual visual technology/tool logos dikhata hai, real named client logos nahi. Copy isi sach ko reflect karti hai taaki galti se bhi yeh na lage ki yeh specific clients hain jab woh hain hi nahi.

QUALITY CHECK

Human sounding, SEO optimized, Easy to read, Premium tone, Brand consistent, No keyword overlap with the later Tech Stack section, Zero AI/GPT-sounding phrasing, No fabricated client names, Grammarly ready.
