

What We Have Done

SECTION ANALYSIS

Purpose: The proof section — after Services and the tech-stack strip tell a visitor what you can do, this is where they check if you've actually done it.

Target Audience: Visitors further down the funnel, past the "do they offer this" stage, now comparing actual output quality against other agencies they have open in other tabs.

User Intent: Show me something I can look at, not just another paragraph describing your capabilities.

Business Goal: Get the visitor to click "View More" on a project close to their own industry or project type, into a detail page built to convert harder than this grid can.

SEO Opportunity: The category filter values build natural topical relevance per category, and every "View More" link passes internal authority into individual portfolio detail pages.

Recommended CTA: View More (already on each card, links to the portfolio detail page).

Design Psychology: A filterable grid lets a visitor narrow straight to their own category instead of scrolling past irrelevant work, which raises the odds they actually find something that convinces them.

Template Note: Same limitation as the Services and Technologies sections — this block currently renders only a Title and Subtitle (via `section_titles.json` → `home.portfolio`). No Label slot is wired into the template yet.

CONTENT (ENGLISH)

Small Label (not yet wired — see Template Note): Our Work

Main Heading: What We Have Done

Subtitle: Real projects for real clients, filtered by category so you can jump straight to work that looks like yours.

EXPLANATION (HINGLISH)

Small Label — "Our Work" short aur confident hai, portfolio section ke liye universal expectation ke saath directly match karta hai, extra explanation ki zaroorat nahi.

Main Heading — "What We Have Done" retain kiya kyunki yeh past-tense proof establish karta hai — "humne kiya hai" bolta hai, "hum kar sakte hain" nahi. Past-tense claim future-tense promise se zyada trust banata hai.

Subtitle — Purani line mein "digital products" jaisa generic SaaS-style term tha, usse hata diya. Naye subtitle mein filter feature ko explicitly mention kiya — yeh ek real functional benefit hai (visitor apni category dhoondh sakta hai), jo "a selection of our work" jaisi generic line se zyada useful aur specific hai.

Template Note — Pichhle do sections (Services, Technologies) ki tarah, Label field abhi template mein wired nahi hai — future reference ke liye diya gaya hai.
